REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

As the President Pro Tem of the Board of Trustees for over one and one half years, I wish to let you know how much I and the rest of the Board have welcomed the presence of our new Bishop, Michael Hanley, who has taken the reins and now establishes the activity and actions of the Board.

This report is brief, but I do want to let you know what the Board has done over this year on several fronts.

Each year it is our task to make grants and loans to various parishes and organizations in the diocese. Over the year 2010 the Board made two challenge grants to congregations in the diocese: to St. Francis in Sweet Home and to St. John's in Toledo. These challenge grants are designed to stimulate and promote fund raising within the congregations to meet an amount granted or loaned by the Board of Trustees with the desire to have the congregations pay off a portion of the grant or loan early. This allows the Board to make other grants to other congregations that have a need for assistance from the diocese. This method has worked well over several years now and we will continue to stimulate congregational fund raising in order to assist in the projects that are undertaken.

Over this year Program grants were made to St. David's Church in Southeast Portland which was a part of a several year commitment to renew and reinvigorate St. David's. I am pleased to be able to say that under the leadership of the Rev. Sara Fischer and the vestry, St. David's is growing and a myriad of programs are underway. The church facility is also being used to meet some of the community needs with programs operated by groups both inside and outside of the parish.

Very recently, with the move of some members of St. Matthew's in Northeast Portland to establish themselves as part of one of the offshoot Anglican organizations, a program grant was made to the continuing Episcopal parish of St. Matthews to assist in staff development as well as some pressing needs for building repairs. We are excited by the work of Lin Knight and Marla McGarry-Lawrence as well as the vestry of St. Matthews as they work to grow St. Matthews Episcopal Church as a vital parish once again.

A third program grant and loan was made for the development of the new Academy program for the training and education of postulants and candidates to the diaconate and priesthood. This program is just getting off the ground with 12 students with the program being housed at St. David of Wales. Students are already in the process of studying church history under the able teaching of the Rev. Dr. Caroline Litzenberger. A Board has been developed, fund raising is beginning and the Board of Trustees is pleased to be able to assist as we strive to make this Academy a success in our diocese. Lee Garrett and the Rev. Kurt Neilson serve as the Executive Director and the Chaplain respectively.

Other actions of the Board over this past year were the transfer of the church in Vesper back to the Johnston family. This church had ceased to provide services as a church and had been built and maintained by the Johnson family. They intend to maintain this property as a church, although it will not function as a parish or mission in the diocese.

One of the joys of being on the Board is to receive bequests on behalf of the diocese. The Rev. Robert Southwell, who was a military chaplain, made a gift to the diocese out of the blue. The Bishop and Board are beginning a vision process to help us make decisions relative to the use of the Southwell bequest.

Last year we reported that the 2007 Audit of the diocese was completed. This year we can report that the 2008 audit has also been completed and we are in the process of the 2009 diocesan audit.

Finally, I want to thank the Rev. Richard Loop and Mr. Stuart Morris for the service that they have given to the Board and to the diocese over these last three years. I know I speak for all the Board when I say that they have provided invaluable service and we appreciate the gifts and abilities that both Dick and Stuart have given.

I would be remiss if I did not also thank our Chancellor, Paul Dakopolos for his role on the Board and the excellence he brings to the task of understanding the role of the Board of Trustees and his service as our diocesan legal counsel. Thanks also go to Mary Macy for the incredible work she has done as the Financial Officer of the diocese. Frankly, she is the best and she has brought new skill and decision making to the Finance Office and to the great staff that she works with. Marie Bagwell is often the glue that holds the Board together—she does the minutes, lets us know when to do what needs to be done, assists in the development of our agenda—and between Mary and Marie they make the work of the Board a pleasure for all of us.

BISHOP HANLEY'S SERMON:

Thank you, thank you, and thank you. Marla and I would like to say thank you for the warm and generous and gracious welcome we have experienced in the Diocese of Oregon this past year. We have been blessed by your welcoming and wonderful hospitality. As we have traveled throughout the diocese on our 100-day journey to visit all of the congregations of the diocese we have come to know you and to love you.

First, a word about the 100-day journey. The question is, did I make it to all of the churches in the diocese in the first 100 days? The answer is No and Almost. It is no, if you just take the days straight and count every day, BUT if you exclude weekends, holidays and our vacation then the answer is Almost. The one hundred day count would then be September 30th and the last churches visited were Cave Junction and Drain, on October 2nd and 3rd.

Here are a few statistics just for the record books. I traveled some 9,500 miles in my car during this time. I spent a total of about 225 hours in contact with the 74 churches, (that is over a full week of working 40 hours a week!) And if you add in my travel time I probably spent an entire month doing nothing but these visits. By the way, Marla joined me in visiting half of these churches and listened to me talk a lot! Thank you Marla!

I say these things about the 100 day visits simply to underscore how much a priority the parishes and missions of this diocese are for me. If we are to carry out God's mission of reconciliation together then it is vitally important that we get to know each other. It's been a wonderful journey and I'm glad we were able to accomplish this work. (Thanks to Marie Bagwell for her excellent skills in managing the calendar! I could not have done it without her help! In fact, thanks to my entire staff for making this transition a holy and blessed time!)

While our 100 day visits were challenging, today's scripture lesson from the gospel of Luke talks about another, somewhat shorter journey, and one just as challenging. The seven mile walk undertaken by two of Jesus companions on the day of resurrection. If you have ever taken a day just to walk you will know that it takes about two and a half to three hours to walk seven miles. So the two men left in the middle of the day and not in the morning. They arrived in Emmaus at dusk. What this suggests is that the disciples hung around for awhile after the first reports of Jesus' resurrection began to circulate. They knew of the empty tomb. Perhaps they spent the day walking around Jerusalem hoping to find Jesus; wondering if the stories were true and if so what that meant. At some point, of course, they despaired and left on their sad trip talking together about the events of the week: the excitement of the entry into Jerusalem, the struggles between Jesus and the authorities, the arrest of Jesus, his trial, the conviction and the killing. From their perspective all they had hoped for was lost in his death. Without a clear vision of the future they left the city and walked away. While on the road five things happened to them: 1.) they discussed their situation, 2.) they encountered a stranger, 3.) their hearts burn as they are taught from the scriptures, 4.) they recognized Jesus in the breaking of the bread and 5.) they ran back to their friends with their news; the Lord has risen.

I find this story appealing because it is my story as well as the disciples; it is our story and not just their story. I have often found myself on the road to Emmaus. Something changes in life and I feel lost and without hope, my vision of the future gone in the immediate events of the present. It takes time after a life changing event to take stock of our current situation. As we walk on the road, we reflect on our life, we meet strangers who teach us, we learn from our sacred writings, we begin to imagine a new future and we joyfully share that new future with our friends.

As I have traveled throughout the diocese I have found great excitement about mission and ministry and great worry and anxiety about the future of the church, often, I found both of these to be true in the same place! At times I heard you speak with clarity about your vision for the future of your faith community and at times I heard words of worry and confusion about the capacity of the church to vision any clear future. Let us acknowledge that we live in a time of great change and the future is very much in question. This is a time to ask: What is God up to now?

Imagine for a minute that the Diocese of Oregon is on the road to Emmaus. In the past are visions that have ceased to bear fruit. To a greater or lesser extent depending on the situation, we are confused about the road ahead. As we walk on the road, we are invited to discuss together the events of the past, to meet strangers along the way and to hear the scriptures anew with these strangers. Our hearts burn within us as we walk and talk on the road. We invite the stranger to break bread with us. In the breaking of the bread we encounter Jesus and discover a new future. It's time now to tell our friends about this new future and begin working toward life in the reign of God. God's mission of reconciling the world to God's self has not changed, but how that mission unfolds in our lives continues to change.

Just as the disciples discussed their changed situation on the road to Emmaus we need to discuss the fact that we are challenged by diminishing finances, an aging church-going population, a popular culture devoid of healthy religious language, the geography of Western Oregon, the age of our buildings and institutions, and by others cultural changes happening in the 21st century. These are real challenges and they will not go away but perhaps with the help of a stranger, and by attention to our history and sacred writings we can discover a new and vital future.

Notice that the stranger they meet on the road does not appear to know the events of the past week in Jerusalem. And yet, it's the stranger who helps them to see God's word in a new and changing context. Some of the questions we might hear from a stranger today involve reinventing ways of being the church together. Can we reinvent yoked or shared ministry congregations? Can we creatively finance new ventures in ministry? Can we learn new skills and can we share resources? Can a church in one community teach another a skill badly needed? Can we as a diocese gather together to rebuild a church needing repair? Can we imagine a "Habitat for Humanity" church building project? Can we build the bridges between congregations that will help all to grow and develop as God desires?

Just as the disciples on the road allowed a stranger into their conversation and learned from him, so we are called to a time of deep and shared learning. Those with knowledge of pastoral care or parish nursing, can you offer these skills to others? Those with a history of good stewardship, can you share that knowledge? Those with liturgical gifts, can you offer those to others? Outreach and social justice experts, what can you teach us? And, will we accept the teachings of our fellow travelers along the way?

Just as the stranger helped the disciples learn from their own holy texts we, as a church, need always to return to the scriptures for our grounding and our faith. God does take an interest in the affairs of the church and God has a word for God's people as we live in the world today. In every congregation we need to find ways to put ourselves before scripture regularly. Clergy and laity alike have a gift to share about how God is working in life, and we all benefit from hearing the word of God together in community. There are a variety of tools such as Gospel Based Discipleship that assist groups in the study of God's word. I trust you are engaged in this work and pray that it continues and blesses you.

Just as the disciples invited the stranger to break bread and in doing so discovered Jesus raised from the dead, so we are invited into the challenge of welcoming newcomers to our churches and seeing Christ in them. To the extent newcomers are like us, it's a bit easier to see Jesus in them. They like what we like, they think like we think, they desire what we desire. But when newcomers are different, it can be harder to see Jesus in them. They have different ways of expressing their faith, they have different traditions, and they are interested in a different way of worshipping. Let us remember that the Jesus the two disciples met on the road and in the inn at a meal was a different Jesus than the one crucified a few days before. The community life he invited the disciples to create after his death was a different life than the one they had enjoyed with him during his earthly life.

Just as the men ran back to the disciples in joy so must we, as a diocese, learn more ways of living joyfully in Jesus. Chapter 10 of John reports Jesus as saying that he came to earth that we might have life and have it in abundance. At our best we are a community so full of love that people are drawn to us. Can we be so full of love and affection for each other and for those outside the community that others in Oregon say, hey, I want some of that!

Just as the men on the road to Emmaus were clear that Jesus was the soul and center of their lives, so Jesus must be for us. Our reason for being is to participate in God's mission of love and redemption of all people. This diocese is already doing so much good in the name of Jesus. Let's let this good news out!

On the road to Emmaus two companions of Jesus discussed their new and troubling situation, they welcomed a stranger who taught them the meaning of the scriptures, they knew Jesus in the breaking of the bread and they ran rejoicing with their message. On our Emmaus road we are invited to acknowledge our challenges, share our learning, and celebrate with joy because God has invited us to live in God's reign on earth. On the road to Emmaus we walk, we listen and share our lives, we invite the stranger to join us and we come to know Jesus in the breaking of the bread. Amen

Resolutions of Courtesy

The 122nd Convention of the Diocese of Oregon

Be it resolved that this, the 122nd Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Oregon wishes to extend our greetings and thanks. Greetings are extended to the Most Rev. Katherine Jefferts Schori and her husband who have inspired us to new heights. The Rt. Rev. Sandy Hampton and his wife Mari who so bravely led us through a time of transition. For their ongoing presence providing support for many of us, the Rt. Rev. Bob Ladehoff, as well as to the other retired bishops in Oregon: The Rt. Rev. Bill Spofford, the Rt. Rev. John Thornton and The Most Rev. Ed Browning. Greetings are extended to our brothers and sisters in the Oregon Synod of the ELCA and their bishop the Rev. Dave Brauer-Reike and to the Diocese of Eastern Oregon and their bishop the Rt. Rev. Nedi Rivera and to our neighbors to the north in the Diocese of Olympia and their bishop the Rt. Rev. Greg Rickel. Greetings are extended to the Diocese of Madhya Kerala in India and their bishop the Rt. Rev. Thomas Samuel.

Thanks are expressed to the Liturgy and Music Commission including Robert Bryant, Kerlin Richter, Jared Talbot, Andy McQuery, Gabriel Lamazares and Roberto Arciniega for leading us in worship.

Thank you to the city of Eugene and the Hilton Hotel for hosting this convention once again. Of course the church just wouldn't be the church without a committee, so we have to thank the committees who made this weekend happen, especially all those people who serve on the Nominating, Convention Planning, Resolutions of Policy, Constitution and Canons, and the Dispatch of Business committees. Thank you also to all the tellers and the exhibitors for giving their time. The convention wouldn't have been possible without Bob Morrison, Chair of Dispatch; Neysa Ellgren, Secretary of Convention; Paul Dakopolos, Chancellor; and Marie Bagwell, Recording Secretary. And then there's Arlene Ullman and Court Williams who helped coordinate this convention, and of course J T Quanbeck and all the members of the Diocesan staff for their outstanding contributions. We can't forget to thank Michael and Marla Hanley for their willingness to come to Oregon and then especially to get out during the 100-day visits to get to know us. We also need to thank our special musical guests from last night.

And on a more serious note, be it further resolved that this convention makes its thoughts and prayers known to the Virginia Theological Seminary community after the fire in their chapel, and to the Diocese of Northern California after the fire at their Diocesan offices. May we continue to remember our interconnectedness with the broader Church.
